AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN.

Canal Matters in a Briak Condition Just Now.

Watching Electrical Experiments With Interest—Other Local Notes From Across Rock Creek.

Canal managers are watching with interest the experiments with the new Lamb electrical cable system for boat haulage now being made in Trenton, N. J. The system appears so practical that serious consideration will be given to it by the companies for the local canal, most largely engaged in transportation. It introduces a tow-path overhead cable line, with the motors suspended from the cable, and to which the towline is attached. Electrical men all over the country are greatly interested.

The electrical system that for some time has been experimented with on the Erie canal and was watched here by the transportation company with the intention of bringing it into local prominence if successful, did not fulfill the expectations of the inventors last year, and has been laid aside. The present Chesapeake and Ohio canal men recognize the fact that the cable cannot much longer remain as the supreme power in canal locomotion, and a worthy successor will instantly receive flattering support.

The break discovered at the Glen Echo level of the canal a few days ago has been repaired. It was not immediately discovered by the canal men, but by the fact that the mudiness of the river water, which hid the earthy stream that made its way through the artificial waterway.

Water has been kept out of the big trough near Williamsport temporarily, to enable workmen to better clear the bed of the grass that has grown up to the great interference of the boats' progress.

The present year still continues to far outstrip all previous ones under the trustee management in the amount of business done.

Factory Sold.

The big Edward L. Dent foundry plant, including the real estate on both sides of K street near the canal, and all the fixtures, equipments, machinery, engines, etc., pertaining thereto, was yesterday sold at public auction by Duncan Brothers, auctioneers, for a figure a trifle under $30,000. The holder of the deed of trust notes, represented by the American Security and Trust Company, owned the property.

The plant is the finest in the District; is thoroughly fitted with the finest and most complete machinery and covers 20,000 feet of ground. There is a frontage of 150 feet on the Potomac river and 200 feet on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal.

Notes.

Troop A, under command of Lieut. Short, left today for River View, for the purpose of giving a fancy drill.

There is much building going on in Rosslyn. There seems to be a boom on.

Messrs. Corson and R. W. Darby of Potomac Commandery, No. 3, Knights Templar, left today for Boston to make final arrangements for the reception of the Georgetown knights in the latter part of August.

Steve Cassin, a former very popular Georgetown boy, is lying in wait for his Washington at his parents' home, on New Jersey avenue.

EXCURSIONS.

The fourth annual excursion of Gen. J. M. Schofield Garrison, No. 28, is going on at River View today. Troop A, sixth U. S. cavalry, commanded by Lieut. W. C. Short, U. S. A., will participate in the following program: Cossack riding, hurdle jumping, in which the horses are used as hurdles; sword combat, acrobatic bareback riding, Roman riding, exhibition of handling schooled horses and other acrobatic sports. Two exhibitions will be given at 3:30 and 8 o'clock p.m. The steamer Peltz will leave on her last trip this evening at 6:45.

Today the steamer Macalester will leave on her first Thursday evening trip to Indian Head at 6:30 p.m. Prof. Schroeder's Concert Band will be in attendance and render some delightful music.

Tomorrow the summer City of Richmond will leave on one of her daily trips to the Potomac Beach at 9 a.m. The large number of people that go on these excursions is evidence that the trip to the Potomac Beach is one of the principal features.

The every Saturday trips to Chapel Point which Capt. Randall has inaugurated are far surpassing the last year's popularity. The fast steamer Harry Randall usually carries five Sunday excursionists and is the most popular of the Potomac Beach resort at every trip. Three hours are given there, reaching home at 10 p.m. Salt water bathing and fishing, music and dancing are the pleasures of the trip. The Potomac Beach, and the Potomac Beach, are among the many attractions. This is one of the most popular excursions in the Potomac region, and the Potomac Beach is reaching a state in which to rival all other resorts on the river.
